Theme and Goal

You want to eat a real, simple cheese burger. Beware of fakes and substitutes! A good cheeseburger consists of one bun card, one cheese card and one meat card.

Set Up

The person who most recently ate a cheeseburger will go first, play proceeds clockwise from them.

Deal each player a card. They look at it and place it face down in the center of the table to form new stacks. Thus, the game starts with stacks equal to the number of players. Players do not use the game text on cards during set up.

Turn Action

On your turn, do ONE of the following (A or B).

A. Add

Draw the top card of the deck, then place it on top of a stack (or create a new stack if there are <7 stacks). You may add a card to a stack that does not already contain a card of that type. For example, you can't place a cheese card on top of another cheese card.

You may then use the game text on the card you placed.

B. Mix & Eat

You may mix two piles together (as long as the combined pile has 3 or fewer cards). OR You may add the top card of the deck (without looking at it) to any pile with two or fewer cards.

Then, you MUST eat. To eat, choose a pile with 3 cards and eat it (reveal that pile).

Eating

When you eat a stack, if it is exactly one Burger, one Bun and one Cheese, you win the game.

If the stack you eat has any moldy ingredients or the mystery meat, you are eliminated. Reshuffle the cards you ate back into the deck.

Game End

If the deck is exhausted, the next player must immediately GORGE. They select any number of piles and reveal them, if those piles contain only real ingredients, that player wins, and all other players lose. Otherwise, that player loses, and all other players win.

Bun - "Bread knows spread: Look at all cards in any one stack."

Burger - "Meat moves: Look at any one card. You may move it to the top of any other stack."

Cheese - "Cheese chooses: You may exchange (trade) the positions of any two cards without looking at them."
